

PUT YOUR Chef Hat ON!

The Scenario:

Searching for a model of brilliant teamwork in action? Look no further than the kitchen of a great restaurant. Chefs practice communication, prioritizing, adaptability and improvisation everyday. Now your corporate team can harness and hone these same skills by participating in Put Your Chef Hat On! This unique and popular culinary adventure mixes one part “The Iron Chef” with one part “The Amazing Race” to produce an unforgettable team building experience.

The Program:

- Competitive teams must create a culinary masterpiece
- Ingredients and cooking equipment are earned through a variety of challenges, including food trivia, blinded aroma station, and some out of the ordinary team building exercises
- Teams must adapt, improvise and harness all of their creative thinking
- Teams are then challenged to creatively present their masterpiece to our panel of judges
- Time and resources are limited and pressure is high

Program Outcomes:

- ü Elevating team spirit and morale
- ü Finding the winning balance between planning and execution
- ü Creating an environment that allows team members to get to know one another better
- ü Allowing the team to play with a purpose

“We challenged Frontier Team Building to develop a highly interactive and energizing team building event to kick off our national sales meeting. They responded with “Put Your Chef Hat On”. Simply put, it was a big hit! There truly was never a dull moment in the entire afternoon and the program generated positive momentum that carried us through our entire three-day meeting.”
