

SOME Assembly REQUIRED

The Scenario:

Similar to children's toys and IKEA furniture, an effective team comes with Some Assembly Required. This innovative program is designed to identify the critical skills necessary to assemble a high-performing team. Combining philanthropy with team building, this program encourages a corporate culture of collaboration, both at a team level and in the local community.

The Program:

- Competing teams must ultimately build a children's race car that will be donated to a local children's charity
- Car parts and tools are earned by completing several creative activities that require both team-work and problem-solving skills
- The final challenge engages the teams in a fast paced race where each team's creativity and innovation is put to the test.

Program Outcomes:

- ü Elevating team spirit and morale
- ü Bringing the key team skills required for success to a conscious level
- ü Encouraging corporate social responsibility by giving back to the community in a tangible way

“This team building session was tons of fun but at the same time replicated the challenges we face every day. As a team coming together, I think we learn to better appreciate the skills each of us brings to the team and to work together to overcome our challenges.”
