Bio

Jeff Rubin was one of the first economists to predict triple digit oil prices back in 2005. One of the world's leading energy experts, Rubin speaks to why the end of cheap oil means the end of easy answers to renewing prosperity — and the end of globalization as we now know it. Rubin was the former Chief Economist at CIBC World Markets (for almost 20 years), and is currently a Senior Fellow at the global think tank, the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI). He is also the bestselling author of Why Your World Is About to Get a Whole Lot Smaller, The End of Growth, and, most recently, The Carbon Bubble. His latest book The Expendables: How the Middle Class Got Screwed by Globalization was published in April 2020.
