Royal Ontario Museum (ROM)

With more than 5 million objects in its collection, the Royal Ontario Museum is a venue of unparalleled Conundrum possibilities!

During your teamwork activities at the ROM, you will have to navigate through the largest museum in Canada to unearth answers relating to fascinating art, archaeology, science and nature collections. You'll get to explore the Museum's diverse galleries, but in a much different way from most Museum guests. You'll need contributions from all teammates in order to successfully re-jig a giant panda's diet, strike a deal in Imperial Rome, and serve as a fashion coordinator for a body armour magazine.

At the conclusion of your Royal Ontario Museum team building event, all team members will not only leave with new insights into the world's culture and history, but also with a greater appreciation for one another's knowledge and skill sets.

If you are planning your adventure as part of a bigger company function, the ROM is an excellent venue for corporate meetings and events. Conveniently located on the edge of Toronto's fashionable Yorkville district, and internationally recognized as a preferred event destination, the Museum is ideal for a wide range of corporate functions. Your Royal Ontario Museum team building event can easily be incorporated into a day of meetings and/or presentations, providing an excellent opportunity to take full advantage of everything the venue has to offer.
